COVID-19 POLICIES AND PROCEDURES

Rocky Mountain Stroke Center (RMSC) is closely following COVID-19 guidelines put into place by the Center for Disease Control and Prevention and the Colorado Department of Public Health and Education. The following policies and procedures are currently in place for all staff, volunteers, and clients participating in in-person services with RMSC.

- RMSC may require masks to be worn when indoors in any RMSC building.
- Temperature checks may be performed upon entry into any RMSC building.
- Records of entry may be kept to help RMSC contact appropriate parties if an outbreak were to occur.
- If an individual receiving in-person services at RMSC is exposed to COVID-19:
 - The individual must refrain from attending in-person programming at RMSC until 5 days post-exposure
 - The individual will be required to provide proof of a negative test result taken no less than 5 days post-exposure.
- RMSC asks to be alerted if an individual attending in-person services has been exposed to COVID-19.
- If an individual receiving in-person services at RMSC tests positive for COVID-19:
 - The individual must refrain from attending in-person programming until 10 days after the positive test result was received.
 - If symptoms persist longer than 10 days, the individual must refrain from attending in-person programming until the symptoms have improved/subsided.
 - We ask that RMSC be alerted if the individual has attended in-person programming in the 5 days prior to a positive test result.

Please sign below letting us know that you have read and agree to the policies and procedures listed above.
